4-A-iv. LIST OF SPECIFICATIONS

Existing Classification Specification Revision:

- Executive Assistant
- Public Works Maintenance Foreperson
- Public Works Supervisor

New Classification Specifications:

- Information Technology Systems Coordinator
- Public Safety Information Technology Systems Analyst

President Batchelor moved to approve Consent Calendar items 4-A-i, 4-A-ii, and 4-A-iii. Motion was seconded by Members Nolan and Brandt which was passed by a 3-0 vote.

President Batchelor requested to pull item 4-A-iv for further discussion. President Batchelor asked why there are two job descriptions for the Information Technology System Coordinator and the Public Safety Information Technology Systems Analyst when there are similar examples of duties listed. Senior Human Resources Analyst Robin Young responded by describing that the City has allocated positions through the budget process based on operational needs prior to creating the classification. The two in question classifications were added around 2013 to the allocations but only recently finalized the job descriptions. She noted that she could not fully answer the question because she along with other staff members were not involved during the 2013 discussions.

Human Resources Director and Executive Secretary to the Board, Nancy Bronstein added that although having specific classifications does allow to conduct recruitments to what department needs, there can perhaps be a discussion on setting up classifications that can be used in different ways instead of having specific classifications. She also would like to discuss later in the meeting, limited certifications, which will allow to do general job classes verses specific job classes.

Vice President Malloy had a question on the 50lb lifting requirement for the Information Technology Systems Coordinator and the Public Safety Information Technology Systems Analyst and where that number came from. Senior Human Resources Analyst Young answered that the number came from the new Information Technology Director based on the needs of the job such as lifting monitors and arranging new systems and assumes that the IT Director discussed this with the subject matter experts to come up with that requirement. Vice President Malloy questions this number based on the weight of technology changing over the years and becoming lighter. Senior HR Analyst Young mentioned she can reach out to the IT Director with these concerns and can perhaps have her complete a physical job analysis form. Vice President Malloy added that the 50lb requirement as an essential job function may not be realistic.

Vice President Malloy had a question on the Public Works Maintenance Foreperson and where it falls in the organization chart and what is the probationary period. Senior HR Analyst Young answered that this classification is between a Public Works Supervisor and a Maintenance Worker II. Vice President Malloy wanted to know the probationary period because there are cases where it can take six months to get a certificate and so the ability to evaluate the person relates to when that person has everything needed for their job which may or may not occur if it's a six month probationary period. Human Resources Director and Executive Secretary to the Board, Bronstein added that the department does have the ability to extend probations to meet requirements such as obtaining job related certifications and this is explained to the employee during the evaluation process. Senior HR Analyst Young confirmed by looking in the MOU that the probationary period is twelve months.

President Batchelor had a question on the Public Works Supervisor requirement and whether the International Municipal Signal Association level 2 certification needs to be more specific. This is because there are three different types of signal certifications: Field Technician, Traffic Signal Bench Technician and Traffic Signal Construction. He suggested to go back to the department to see what they are looking for. Senior HR Analyst Young agreed she will check with the department.

Human Resources Director and Executive Secretary to the Board, Bronstein brought up that it may make sense to move away from typing requirement of 65 WPM for the Executive Assistant classification and to recognize what the positions does. She also mentioned that there will be an Executive Assistant for AMP position with the same typing requirement that may need to be adjusted as well.

President Batchelor moved to approve Consent Calendar item 4-A-iv with the exception of the Information Technology Systems Coordinator and Public Safety Information Technology Systems Analyst. Motion was seconded by Vice President Malloy which was passed by a 3-0 vote.

5-B. Informational Report, Regarding Designation of Eligible List – Economic Development Manager, 2015-51 for Management Analyst vacancy, DS.1420.001

The Civil Service Board accepted the Activity report.

5-C. Informational Reports

President Batchelor had a question for HR Director Bronstein regarding the Administrative Assignment for the Firefighters and whether the City automatically banks the additional 40 holiday hours and if yes, does the City have to pay out those hours if the employees leave the City. HR Director Bronstein confirmed the holiday hours are front loaded and Administrative Technician Shikmuradova added that holiday hours are not paid out.

Member Malloy asked if Firefighter Baldizan will remain active on the Firefighter list while he is on office assignment. HR Director Bronstein answered he has return rights because he is temporarily vacating the position.

The Civil Service Board accepted the Activity report.

6. ORAL COMMUNICATIONS, NON-AGENDA (PUBLIC COMMENTS)

(Any person may address the Civil Service Board in regard to any matter over which the Civil Service Board has jurisdiction or of which it may take cognizance that is not on the agenda).

7. CIVIL SERVICE BOARD COMMUNICATIONS (COMMUNICATIONS FROM BOARD)

HR Director Bronstein wanted to get the Civil Service Board's thoughts on block budgeting or flexible staffing. She went on to describe how currently if someone is brought in at a lower level position, even though the position is budgeted at a higher level, in order to move an employee to level two or three, a recruitment needs to be conducted. She described how in a merit system, if the position is funded at a higher level but hire at the lower level, once the employee meets all necessary requirements, he/she may be able to automatically move up granted the amount of employees at the entry level position does not greatly outnumber the amount of positions available at the higher level in which case you would open a recruitment.

President Batchelor replied that as long as the position is being budgeted at the higher level, he doesn't see a problem. Member Malloy commented that she is fine with the concept of flexible staffing but would require some formal objective analysis that the person is ready as supposed to what she calls, pure flexing, where after a period of time a supervisor automatically grants a promotion. She further explains that the employee must clearly demonstrate their ability through perhaps a panel or examination verses just a performance evaluation from a supervisor.

HR Director Bronstein mentioned that she would like to come back with the job descriptions with competencies and language for certain classifications for the October 5, 2016 CSB meeting for the Board's thoughts. She goes on to say that there may be recruitments in the future where using demonstrated measurement will bring more value verses opening a recruitment and doing interviews for certain classifications.

HR Director Bronstein wanted to further discuss limited certification and how currently if there is a documented need for a certain certification for an employee, it will allow the department to move down the certified eligible list until you reach that candidate. Member Nolan asked what is the certification rule for eligible lists. HR Director Bronstein answered that per the Civil Service Rule, ten (10) names are certified for entry level positions and other levels are five (5) names. She explained the department can interview the top five (5) or move down the list if those candidates do not meet their needs. Member Malloy recommended having multiple eligible lists as oppose to one eligible list to capture specific needs, specialists, or special certifications. HR Director Bronstein acknowledged that perhaps a system can be set up for a process of selective certification and have Human Resources monitor that process.

Member Brandt mentioned having problems opening the links to the Civil Service Board agenda packet. HR Director Bronstein suggested having a PDF of the entire packet and a separate attachment for the minutes in the email.
